HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

PATENT SINCH FASTENER!
CAN BE USED ON PACK, RIDING AND SIDE Saddles. A child large enough to lift a saddle on a horse can tighten up the girth with ease. It is very simple in construction, never gets out of repair, is safe, convenient and costs very little more than the old method.

State, Territorial and County Rights for sale. For the Pacific States and Territories, address O. H. HORNE, Astoria, Clatsop county, Oregon. Atlantic States, address J. W. GEARHART, care of Messrs. Barnet, Stairsby & Ballard, Newark, N. J.

We respectfully refer to the following Card:

Having examined the New Patent Sinch or Belly Band Fastener, invented by O. H. Horne, of Astoria, Oregon, we take pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is one of the easiest, quickest and best method of tightening a saddle girth that has ever been in use. It also has an advantage over all others in use in being able to tighten your saddle girth without dismounting.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Professor Davidson, last night in taking astronomical observation on Washington square, examined luminous belts across the moon, generally mistaken for northern lights. He pronounced them merely streamers of very thin aqueous vapor, driven southward by air currents moving contrary to wind below—very curious and interesting, but indicating no important atmospheric changes. The atmosphere was very pure and the moon was never observed to better advantage.

The Board of Pilot Commissioners are organized and acting under the new law and all pilots now holding licenses are requested from this date to make their statements and render their account to the Board at No. 34, Exchange building, California street, and to consider themselves acting under the law approved March 22d, 1870.

In reply to a communication concerning the proposed excursion of Methodist Church South clergymen over the Pacific Railroad and what facilities would be afforded them, the Superintendent of the Central Pacific offers to give them tickets at half fare, and refers them to the officers of the Union Pacific road for arrangements east of Ogden.

"THE SOUR LAKE" IN TEXAS.—The Journal of Applied Commerce for March, has a communication from "R.," who, while engaged in a geological survey of Texas, visited Sour Lake in the southern part of the State. We quote from the description: "The lake occupies an area of about five acres, but at one time it must have spread over a larger space. It is of an irregularly elliptical form, surrounded by low, neatly rounded mounds. The water is quite sour, and to most persons has a disagreeable, fetid odor and taste, from the presence of petroleum or mineral oil, which rises from different parts of the lake in the form of small globules, and floats upon the surface of the water. * * Bubbles of carburetted hydrogen constantly escape from every part of the surface of the lake. * * The geological structure of the region consists of alternating beds of light brown and ash colored clay and marl, soft calcareous, and silicious sandstones, and bituminous slabs, with included beds of lignites and iron pyrites. These belong to the miocene tertiary period, which forms a broad belt from fifty to eighty miles wide, and margins the gulf coast for some hundred miles. It is the southern equivalent of the miocene of the mauvaises terres of Nebraska, so celebrated for extinct animals, which have been found in such profusion. * * The acidulous waters are derived from decomposition of underlying aluminous and pyritiferous shales, by which sulphuric acid is set free, and becomes mingled with the water which percolates the strata. The astringent taste of some of the springs is due to alum. The source of the petroleum may be found in the decomposition of lignite beds and bituminous shales, which are largely developed over the miocene region of Texas."

A CURIOUS CUBAN ARGUMENT.—The New York Sun having exhausted the more commonplace arguments in favor of American intervention in the Cuban quarrel, has recourse to some that are very recondite, not to say amusing. Its last may be syllogised in this shape: Cruel people should not be allowed to rule over other people. The Spaniards exhibited great cruelty in their war with the Netherlands a couple of centuries ago, therefore they should not be allowed by the United States to rule over Cuba. We suppose it would be impertinent to suggest that as all the Cubans of pure blood are as lineally descended from Alva's soldiers and their friends, as the Spaniards themselves, and as the Cubans of mixed race derive that portion of their blood which is not Spanish, from the fierce and brutal tribes of Africa, or the still fiercer Caribs of the Gulf, therefore the Cubans are a cruel people, unfit to govern themselves or each other as unfit as are the Spaniards. But it will be surely allowable for us to test the truth and pertinency of the Sun's syllogism by applying it to a similar case, as thus: A cruel race should not be permitted to rule over colonies. The Americans massacred (not two centuries ago, but two months ago,) a whole Indian tribe, including, we fear, a good many women and some children, therefore they are a cruel race, unfit to rule over colonies, therefore the Mormons would be justified in rebelling against such a race. If this argument is good, it is "six of one and half a dozen of the other" with the poor Cubans, whether Spain continues to govern them or the United States eventually gobbles them up, after letting them ungovern themselves awhile.

There are about 900 applicants for positions on the Mobile police force.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Miss Loretta Mann, of Adrian, Michigan, somewhat distinguished in various parts of the State last fall as a "walkist," and rival to Weston, is now pursuing her studies in the Philadelphia Medical College. She performed her quite remarkable feats of walking for the purpose of raising money to this end.

In 1868, Seymour beat Grant in Kentucky by a majority of 76,375. But in 1869, the Democratic majority was only about 67,000. Now that 47,000 negro voters are to be added to those exercising the franchise in that State, by the exercise of the Fifteenth Amendment, the majority for Democracy will be very small. There will not, therefore, be a strongly Democratic State in the Union, except the State of Tennessee; for the negroes will give Maryland to the Republicans by a rousing majority.

In the town of Hyde Park, Mass., some sixty women, including one "Fifteenth Amendment," voted at the last town meeting on the 7th inst., and had their votes duly counted by Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., the moderator of the meeting, but not as part of the official list. The affair included some of the most fashionable women of the town, and was regarded by those who participated in it as an entire success, albeit the hootings and sirgings of the assemblage of the tyrant man were discomposing and deafening.

General Sheridan meets the Indian [illegible] as boldly and frankly as he always met the foe in the field. He has no word of palliation for the "hard hits" that were given the savages by his orders. He shirks no responsibility, presents a list of atrocities committed by the savages, and sums up the case by the assertion, "the problem to be solved is who shall be killed, the whites or the Indians." The latter question really embodies the pith of the aboriginal trouble. We trust that the Indian [illegible] will answer it in a manner satisfactory to the W[illegible] there.

Dispatches from New York show that, [illegible] of the extensive failures that have been predicted as a consequence of the fall of gold, the importers and jobbers actually find it operates as a stimulant to trade. As the import trade and prices have steadily conformed to the gold standard, as fast as gold falls their goods fall in corresponding price. This is no inconvenience to the importers, as they get the same gold prices as if gold had not fallen, and, at the same time, is a stimulus to buyers, as the same sum in currency goes a great way further in making purchases. The [illegible] of [illegible] ing business brisk is to sell according to gold prices, and fall as gold falls.

There was some laughter in the New York Gold Room the other day, when a newly arrived English Dundreary, who had been taken there without being told the nature of the place, decamped in haste and terror under the impression that he had got into a madhouse. The Englishman, however, was quite correct in opinion and entirely justifiable in his conduct. There is no madhouse in the country which is the [illegible] of such wild, absurd and horrible uproar as the New York Gold Room is now-a-days, and people who wish to retain their reason and their wits ought to keep outside of it [illegible] do if they wish to retain [illegible] money.

A grand tournament [illegible] at Niagara Falls the coming season. [illegible] announced that arrang[illegible] have [illegible] between the St. John's Paris crew and the champion crew of England, from New[illegible] upon Tyne, to row a four oared race at [illegible], near M[illegible], for $5,000, next July, and the [illegible] of the [illegible] crews will take part; they are also in correspondence with the Harvard crew, and hope to [illegible] their attendance. It is even hinted that the return match between the H[illegible] and Oxfords may possibly be rowed on the waters of the Niagara during the tournament. Sailing and rowing races on the river will be made up for [illegible] day of the tournament, and liberal [illegible]. A great many other things are [illegible] programme, such as boxing, cricketing, base ball, promenade ball, etc., etc., all for the [illegible] of the hotels.

The verdict of New Hampshire is an endorsement of Grant's administration. As in the initial race for the grand [illegible] of 1868 New Hampshire, in leading off with Grant, gave the Republicans the inside track and the lead which they held throughout, so now, in planting themselves upon the platform of Grant's administration, the New Hampshire Republicans have shown their party throughout the country how to win. To the temporizing Democracy, on the other hand, the moral of this New Hampshire [illegible] signifies that the employment of [illegible] is a dangerous business, inasmuch as this new labor reform party upon which the Democratic [illegible] relied to draw away the Republican [illegible] of power has, like a two edged sword, cut both ways. In fact, this new labor reform party, with its red hot Democratic ideas on banks, money, &c., is just the thing to complete the demoralization of the Democratic party.

The Suez canal is getting by degrees into permanent working order, and [illegible] for its builders, having realized [illegible] up to the 1st of February, [illegible] francs. Still, the work is not what it is intended to be, and will probably require a good deal of dredging and deepening. It now accommodates large sized East India [illegible] but it is stated, on what seems to be authority, that an additional outlay of four millions of dollars would be necessary to make it a canal for the heaviest ships of war. Still, these adjuncts of civilization may very well wait, or "go round." New currents of commerce and enterprise are beginning to shape themselves about that old center of trade, and an Italian corvette lately left Genoa to "run across" and establish a naval station at Massowa, in Abyssinia. Southern Germany also will make the most of it, in spite of Bismarck.

The expedient of personal appeal by which actors sometimes support their professional claims was recently reduced to its last absurdity by the tragedian, McKean Buchanan. At the close of an engagement of one night in the town of Owensboro, Kentucky, where he was not appreciated at his own valuation, he made a pathetic speech, saying that he was pre eminent in his art, a native of New Orleans, and the only Southern actor recognized abroad, and he achieved the climax of reproachful eloquence by declaring that while in mercantile business he had shipped many hogsheads of sugar to the village that now refused to reward his artistic efforts. But in vain. Even sweet memories of Buchanan's New Orleans sugar failed to persuade Owensboro that Buchanan's Richelieu is a splendid production of genius. After all, while this is more ridiculous it is really less reasonable than the more common demand that the public shall pay for an actor's funny tragedy because he is a "good fellow," or undergo a course of melancholy humor because the comedian has "a large family dependent on him?"

Sorosis has listened to and applaud[illegible] a sensible speech by Mrs. Robert Dale Owen, who believes that suffrage is not the chief end in life, and who regards the cooking stove as a more influential agent than the ballot-box. "And so long," said she, "as women have the providing of man's food they can govern him as they choose." Unquestionably this is true. To exercise this control it is not necessary to adopt the principles or the practice of the Borgia. Men are not held in subjection through fear of poisoning. The brain and the will are often most easily approached through the stomach. Man recognizes this fact in his intercourse with man, and it is not surprising that woman is mistress of that method of attack. She may make man's life a continual torment through an irregular and inadequate cuisine, or a perpetual delight by a perfect system of kitchen administration. Besides in this instance the cooking stove prefigures the household, and food is a symbol of all the privileges and influences incident to the home. The power of woman in and through this branch of life work is almost beyond estimate. Mrs. Owen did not overestimate it when she said it ought to be as highly regarded as esthetics and thought quite as respectable. She speaks for millions of the best women in the land when she declines to relinquish that power for something of doubtful value.

The Public Credit

In one of his Spectators Addison has given us an allegory upon the Public Credit which, like almost everything he wrote, has long been regarded as classical In this allegory Public Credit is represented as a beautiful woman seated on a throne of gold [illegible] walls, instead of being adorned with pictures and maps, were covered with such acts of Parliament as had been made for the establishment of the public funds The lady appeared infinitely timorous in all her behaviors, and startled at everything she heard She was subject to such momentary consumptions that in the twinkling of an eye she would fall away from the most florid complexion and most healthful state of body and wither into a skeleton In a little time the doors flew open and half a dozen hideous phantoms entered One of these represented Anarchy, another Bigotry, and a third was the Evil Genius of the commonwealth who had a sword in his right hand and in his left a sponge to wipe out the national debt The lady would have been frightened to distraction to have seen but any one of these specters; what then must have been her condition when she saw them all in a body? She fainted and died away at the sight The heaps of money that had appeared in the room shrunk into nothing, and the scene suddenly became one of complete desolation

Such, in brief, is the substance of the allegory which Addison has given us It was written against a malcontent faction which, in his own time, was warring on the public credit and menacing his country with dishonor and ruin. But it was also written for all time, for experience proves that in all countries, when the public credit is in a condition to need close attention and watchful care in order to build it up and sustain it, a faction will exist, which will make assaults upon it and destroy it utterly, unless such faction be put down. We have here and now a condition of things which makes this allegory exactly applicable. Public credit is the most timorous of all things In our country during the war it sunk very low, but of late, owing to careful guardianship, it has greatly revived. It has, indeed, so improved as to be in a very hopeful condition. But now comes a political party, which may be fitly represented as the Evil Genius of the country, threatening to wipe out the national debt as with a sponge, and proposing a policy that would immediately and effectually kill public credit. Let the doctrines of this party be adopted, and instantly the credit of this nation would vanish, to be seen no more

It is claimed by those who are leading this assault on the public credit in Oregon that it is the beginning of a movement that is destined to sweep over the whole country, and that its success here will greatly accelerate its progress in other places. This, if true, would furnish a powerful reason why the movement that has begun here should here receive its death blow. We do not apprehend that the contagion of repudiation would spread to other States, but the leaders here claim that it would; and for the very reason which they urge in its behalf it should be put down. Their own argument turns with irresistible force against them. But if Oregon could not do the public credit much injury by thus assailing it, she could injure her own reputation incalculably by such a course. The animus of the thing would condemn our State; for we would be pointed at as a people who would break faith and destroy the national credit if we only had the power. Shall it go abroad that the only security the public credit has, lies in the fact that Oregon, though willing, is not able to destroy it? The result of the election will be the answer.

Zeal Tempered with Judgment.

There are few men who do not take an interest in propagating their opinions. There is a deep principle in human nature which prompts them to such action. In general, the social nature of man moves him to propagate his opinions as much as his physical impulses urge him to propagate his kind. The passions give zeal and vehemence. The understanding bestows, or should bestow, design and system Then the whole man moves under the discipline of his powers, and moves to some purpose. But if zeal and vehemence inspired by the passions be not properly regulated according to wise design and system supplied by the understanding, the man will be an imprudent advocate of his cause, and will be more likely to injure and retard it than to help its advancement These remarks are preliminary to some suggestions we have to offer to Republicans upon the manner which, in our humble judgment, the campaign now opening should be conducted. To propagate Republican principles most effectively is, or should be, the object of all who assume to speak for the party The time was when vehemence was the main thing that was necessary That was in the heat of war, when it was indispensable that popular feeling be kept up to the highest pitch. But now the country is calmer Men must be reasoned with, and the party which promises the best results for the country, and convinces the people by fair, candid and truthful statements, of the correctness of its policy, is the party which the people will pronounce for and support. It is easy enough to advocate Republican principles without doing it in an offensive or repellant manner To follow out this policy it is not necessary to renounce a single point in the Republican creed. The people want moderation, but look for firmness and earnestness, in those who address them. In the Republican platform just adopted there is so much that is good, that no man worthy to speak for the party should be at a loss as to his course That platform is moderate yet firm in all its utterances. It proposes nothing that any citizen, without reference to former party associations, may not commend There is no proscription in it. There is nothing in it that partakes of the nature of what has been offensively called "Radicalism" In short, there is no "Radicalism" in the Republican party The issues of the war are fully settled Men have made up their minds upon them, and no amount of rant can change or unsettle their judgment Hence there is no propriety in trying to conduct this canvass on war issues. Furious and denunciatory harangues on subjects connected with the war will not suffice now While Republicans cannot if they would, and would not if they could, change their opinions about that struggle, they must realize that there are now new questions to deal with And they should realize, too, that it is no part of good policy to repel those who have formerly differed with them, but who may be disposed to act with them upon issues now presented Nothing is to be gained by intemperate speech directed against those who have heretofore honestly differed with the Republican party but who, if allowed to do so, might heartily co-operate with that party in saving our State from the disgrace of repudiation and in establishing for it and for the country a sound and beneficial policy To conclude, all who cannot talk for the Republican party in the spirit of the platform should give the field to such as know how to talk for the party with better effect

Scheme to Settle Railroad Lands

According to the St Paul Press the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which has about fifty millions of acres of lands, is about to inaugurate by far the most magnificent scheme of colonization which has ever been attempted in the history of railroad enterprises The scheme is in the first place to provide work on their railroad for immigrants and to provide such laborer at the end of, or during his term of service or any immigrant who does not choose to labor for the Company a farm of 40, 80, or 160 acres selected in alternate blocks, with a neat frame tenement already erected thereon, and with a moderate field fenced in at the expense of the Company, on terms that will barely cover the outlay, payment being required in small installments and on long time The buildings are to be built by the thousand, and consequently at very cheap rates and placed ready for occupation on the farms of the purchasers The whole of this "magnificent scheme" consists in putting up a cheap house, which enables the man lacking capital to begin in a comfortable way the work of securing a home How far such a scheme might be made profitable to the Company and to the purchasers of their lands on the above terms, remains to be tried We wait to see this magnificent scheme " carried out

Editorial Notes.

At the Democratic ratification meeting the other night, one of the speakers who was enlarging in the usual style on the burdens of taxation, said that affairs would soon come to such a pass that taxes would have to be collected at the point of the bayonet We know of some prominent and loud-mouthed Democratic politicians of this town who never pay a cent of the taxes due from them to the Government, upon whom that "bayonet" might have been used with good results long ago

In mentioning the name of Mr James O'Meara as one of the speakers at ratification meeting the other night, we should have stated that he did not appear as a Republican, but as a man independent of party, who protests against the repudiation doctrines of the Democratic platform. Mr. O'Meara, in common with very many men of Democratic antecedents, considers it a public duty to protest against the dishonorable position into which the repudiators would bring our State He stated this, in substance, in his speech, and it is due to him that as we mentioned his name, we should so state it.

The Herald attributes to Mr Gazley the following remark at the ratification meeting on Friday night "We have the Almighty on our side, in other words we have high, low, jack and the game." Of course Mr. Gazley never used the above language in the connection in which the Herald has stated it. If he used the expression, "high, low, jack and the game," he used it in another way; and the fact of his using it at all would seem to be strong presumptive proof that he has been at least an occasional reader of the Herald, whose fondness for the nomenclature of the card table has often been a subject of remark This is the last thing that paper should try to pick anybody up on.

There is a chance for the city of Portland to get a taste of "equitable adjustment" Sometime last year the city lent an amount of money, some $15,000 greenbacks, that was received from the sale of the Court House block to the United States. Since then greenbacks have advanced greatly in value, and by the time the money is due they may go up to par. The question to be asked is, will the city allow an "equitable adjustment," according to the principles of the Democratic platform? Of course if men borrow greenbacks when they are worth seventy cents in gold they should not be required to pay them dollar for dollar, after they have advanced to ninety or one hundred cents,—that is, if the Democratic platform is to become our rule of action.

"The ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment was forced upon those to whom it was most distasteful, and it was against the will of the people, as the result in the Northern States shows" Thus the Herald. Let us see a little about this. Since the amendment was proposed elections have been held in the following States which, before that measure was brought forward, were Republican, viz Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, and Kansas Every one of these States have been carried by the Republican party since the Amendment was proposed In Ohio where there was a Democratic Legislature, the Republicans made a fight and carried the State directly on the amendment, and the Legislature ratified it Last April the Connecticut Republicans made a fight on the Amendment and carried their State, though the Democrats last week elected their Governor there, owing to the fact that a light vote was polled, but the Republicans still have the Legislature The fact is, then, that results in the Northern States do not show that the Amendment is "against the will of the people No Northern State that the Republicans had control of has been carried by the Democrats on this issue, and the Herald cannot make its assertion good PUBLIC LAND LAWS —We have from H H Bancroft & Co, publishers and booksellers San Francisco a volume of 1 168 pages entitled "The Public Land Laws of the United States, with instructions and decisions appertaining thereto as well as all the Congressional and Legislative Acts relating to the public lands in the States of California Oregon, Nevada Kansas and Nebraska, and the Territories with an introduction to each, together with the practice forms and an appendix, by James C Zabriskie This is an important and valuable publication and one almost indispensable to the profession from the fact that no work of the kind has been published since 1860 and many of the laws in force at that time have been repealed modified or ceased to be operative Many of the Executive and Judicial decisions have also been overruled and no longer constitute or furnish precedents for action The present work is designed to furnish the information required, and to render all the existing land laws, instructions and decisions practically useful The work has a much larger scope than any that has preceded it or that now exists, and embodies authentic information upon the varied interests connected with the public lands of the United States

To our Patrons Greeting:

HERE'S A BUMPER TO OUR PAYING CUSTOMERS—may peace and plenty and health and beauty attend them; may they never know a want ungratified; may every one of them live a hundred years to come, and good digestion wait on appetite through all!

Here's a "cuss" to those who have "bilked" us—may their slumbers be disturbed by legions of wronged grocers," may their scolding wives never let up on them till the devil takes charge of their carcass; may premature age and itch them bald, and the scurvy render "corn cake" a luxury for ever to them; may their plighted faith sicken and wilt like the sun flower in December may they never enjoy a meal till they have earned it by the sweat of their dishonest brows; may the buck-wheat and honey bought of us on "time" permeate through their vile carcasses till it injures their sight, affects the nerves irritates the skin and frees them the itch dilates the optics and destroys the taste; shatters the frame and saves them a wreck of "cussedness!" May Satan know them not and may they have not where to rest their heads till banished so far beyond purgatory that the sound of Gabriel's horn can never reach them; and finally may the Indians scalp and cayotes eat them if they don't settle with

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 11 1870

CITY.

HOLY WEEK.—This being Holy Week so called because of its immediately preceding the festival of Easter will be observed in this [illegible] as is the custom of the Episcopal Church by services at Trinity Church every morning and evening during the week at the usual hours excepting on Friday evening when a discourse will be preached at St. Stephen's Chapel On Friday morning, at Trinity Church a sermon will also be preached. On Easter Sunday the Communion Service at Trinity Church and we presume also at St. Stephen's Chapel, will be of more than ordinary interest. The observance of this most sacred week by those of Catholic faith will of course, be held according to the customs and usages of that Church and they are very interesting The ceremonies begin on Sunday yesterday, when Christ's entrance into Jerusalem is commemorated by blessing palm or other green branches, and distributing them to the people whence the day is called Palm Sunday On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings the office of the Tenebræ (darkness) is chanted This office of the matins and lauds for [illegible] of the mornings which it is customary to recite over night During the [illegible] a large candlestick supporting 15 lights arranged in form of a triangle, which is to denote Christ and the prophets who predicted his coming stands in the Sanctuary The lights are one by one extinguished, until only the upper one remains which is taken down and placed under the altar until the close of the office, and then brought back. This symbolizes Christ's burial and resurrection. The bells are not rung, nor instruments of music sounded from the "Gloria in Excelsis" in the mass of Thursday, until Saturday There is no mass on Good Friday, and the altar is stripped of all its ornaments On Saturday the services begin by the blessing of fire and water and of the paschal candle, an emblem of Jesus Christ, which is lighted in token of His resurrection, and burns during part of the mass from Easter until the Ascension

NEW CHURCH EDIFICE.—Services were held yesterday, for the first time, in the new Lutheran Church edifice of this city The scaffolding had not all been removed from the interior of the building, in consequence of the incomplete state of a portion of the decorations, but the room was suitable to seat the audience This makes the [illegible] church edifice in Portland This new building is located at the corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, on lots 5 and 6, block 60, which was purchased by the congregation (First Evangelical Lutheran Church) on the first day of April last year. The congregation was organized the 12th of April, two years ago, and now numbers about seventy members The structure, which is 35 feet by 60 in size of base, with [illegible] full dimensions, and 28 feet to [illegible] commenced in December of last year and has cost not far from $4,000 It is a neat and beautiful building. The windows [illegible] with stained and enameled glass The ceremony of dedication will take place on the [illegible] of May, Rev. George F Stelling of Harrisburg assisting in the service. Outwardly the [illegible] its about as fine an appearance [illegible] The distance from the basement to the peak of the roof is nearly if not quite [illegible] the style being something on the order of Gothic. A belfry of twenty five feet surmounts the roof, into which a bell, weighing 1 000 [illegible] will soon be hung to summons the congregation. On Sunday next communion service will be held in this church.

[illegible]—The lecture delivered at the [illegible] Church on Saturday evening by Hon E. L. Applegate, upon "Al Koreish, Mohammed, [illegible]" was a lecture of vast interest The [illegible] appeared as the attorney for Mohammed, and those who heard him in the argument of the case on a previous occasion in this city, for the [illegible] of the Library Association and then this Saturday evening, say that the last argument was [illegible] than the first. We are inclined to think that his client would be well satisfied if [illegible] to see it. We observe that several [illegible] at Madras, India, have professed to [illegible] to Mohammedanism, and if Mr Applegate [illegible] his addresses in Oregon, there [illegible] Americans in Oregon [illegible] believe that Mohammed is entitled to the same amount of credit as Abraham of [illegible] the work of Christianity in those days [illegible] was for the benefit of the Baptist [illegible] netted a rather handsome sum

[illegible]—At Trinity (Episcopal) Church [illegible] persons presented themselves [illegible] firmation, at the close of the morning service. Confirmation is held by this Church to be [illegible] rite, and hence one of those special [illegible] strengthens the Christian, and enables [illegible] to openly and courageously confess and defend his faith. Baptism, confirmation, and the [illegible] is an order which must prove of much [illegible] profit to the soul The "laying on of hands" was by Bishop Morris, and the form prescribed by the Church, and which may be found [illegible] of Common Prayer, was repeated in [illegible] This interesting ceremony prolonged the morning service until the hour of 1½ P. M. Bishop Morris preached a very [illegible] discourse

PORTLAND AND LAFAYETTE MAIL.—Mr Underwood, Postal Agent, sends us the following in relation to the mail service between Portland and Lafayette

EDITOR OREGONIAN —I notice an item in your paper stating that Jesse D Carr had got the contract for carrying the mail weekly from Portland [illegible] and Forest Grove to Lafayette This is incorrect. The service will at least be [illegible], and I desire to add further that I have [illegible] assurances that service six times a week will be ordered between Portland and Corvallis via Forest Grove, Lafayette and Dallas after July next.

Yours, etc.,
J B UNDERWOOD,
Special Agent Postoffice Dept."

FOR LADIES ONLY—We desire to impress one fact [illegible] the minds of our lady readers—which they may perhaps, before this have some little inkling of, if they have pursued our column closely, that is this We intend to keep them thoroughly [illegible] regarding the fashions About a month ago we gave them some idea of a new thing, and later still an item regarding a very important matter. To-day we desire to remind them that Mrs Clarke has finally opened her millinery stock, near the store of Clarke Henderson & Cook, entrance through the store. If a thing of beauty be a joy forever, Mrs Clarke has the beautiful things to [illegible] much joy in Portland See card elsewhere.

TURN VEREIN SOCIETY—At the election for officers of the Portland Turn Verein Society held at Turn Verein Hall yesterday, Messrs Levy [illegible] and L N. Walter were elected trustees for the term of three years, in place of two retiring trustees. The annual officers were elected as follows [illegible], L. H. Lewis, Vice President, Louis [illegible] Recording Secretary, Lehman Blum Financial Secretary, Jos Bachman; Treasurer David Hildburgh. The Portland Turn Verein is one of the oldest established associations of the city. The membership is now large, and is composed in part of some of the leading citizens

NEW ENGINE HOUSE—The plans and specifications for a new engine house for Protection Company No. 4, have been completed We understand that the new house will be erected on First street, between Jefferson and Madison streets It is to be of brick, two stories high 25 by 70 feet with an ornamental iron front The city has long paid rent for a house for this company Now should the City Council adopt the "equitable ad [illegible]" plan of the copperhead Democracy the landlord of these premises might perhaps be made to pay something to the city towards defraying the expenses of the erection of the new house

COLORS FLYING—The steamer Alert Capt Pease, came down the Wallamet on Saturday afternoon with her colors flying The event elicited much remark, as to what was the cause of this, which was finally explained to be in honor of the delegation which were taken up in the morning from here, as all crafts when they hoist their colors keep them up for the round trip which called for their use

ARTISTIC.—We have been presented with a very tasty job of printing from the office of Messrs Himes & Daly Front Street It is a business card for the firm, No 9 size, and is printed in four colors, with a bronzed rule border square with broken corners and a printed diamond interlapping at the point, the straight lines of the square, about the center of each side and end

SCHOOL MEETING—The adjourned school meeting for this District, to vote upon the levying of a tax for the coming year, and take action upon the [illegible] of ordering certain purchases of real [illegible] for the use and benefit of the District, will be held this evening

OUT OF PLACE—Half a dozen youths last evening about five o clock met with a solitary Chinaman on Alder street at the corner of Third and pounced upon him in a style which brought disgrace upon themselves and their parents and a heap of filth upon the Chinaman The thing was entirely out of place to children who had the appearance of Sabbath School scholars

AN [illegible] DOG John Wesley an Indian and a boy belonging in East Portland had a tussel for a dog at the ferry landing on Saturday Both claimed the dog and we guess the dog belonged to both of them The boy lost the dog about three months ago and John Wesley lost him about two months ago The property [illegible] rest with the boy He took the dog

MASONIC [illegible] To morrow evening [illegible] Theatre an entertainment will be given of humorous and sentimental readings by Prof [illegible] and Gen [illegible] taken for the benefit of a Masonic fund Exercises will commence at 7 45 Tickets $1 00 to be had at the store of Harris & Holman and at the door

EXCHANGE OF PULPITS Rev I Gerry of Oregon City yesterday presided at the Congregational Church in this city, and Rev Dr Atkinson filled the pulpit for Mr Gerry at Oregon City

HAIL STORM On Saturday and yesterday, slight storms of hail were observed in this vicinity At 4 o clock P M yesterday the storm was pretty severe for the idea of an Oregon spring

IDAHO.

[From the Silver City Avalanche April 2]

Work has already started at the Wagontown diggings which will be a lively camp while the water lasts

Some of the owners of claims on Florida mountain are at work shoveling snow, arranging flumes, etc

It is reported that richer ore than ever has just been struck in the Corduroy drift near the Peck & Porter shaft

It is reported that a number of Indians have lately been seen lurking round in the vicinity of Cable & Corp's ferry and also on Jordan creek We should not be surprised to learn at any time of a renewal of hostilities on the part of the red devils

One of the most remarkable reformations, perhaps, ever known to have taken place, has been in progress during the past few months in the Idaho Territorial Prison The prisoners have formed themselves into a Bible class and spend part of each day in reading and commenting on the Scriptures Religious services including prayer, singing, etc, form a portion of each day's duties, and we are assured by Masse and Reed, who were pardoned last week, that they are sincere in their devotions, and left the place with great reluctance, feeling that they were going away from good and exposing themselves to more evil influences abroad in the world than they were subject to in the prison Stone, who attempted to rob Wells Fargo & Co, near Malad they represent as having thoroughly repented, found pardon from his Creator, and is preparing himself, while in prison, to preach the gospel in case he shall ever be again set at liberty This is the first instance, we believe, where a penitentiary has resolved itself into a theological seminary

[From the Boise Chronicle]

Flour is $20 per hundred at Oro Grande Loon Creek, other goods sell at fair prices Parties have already left the Basin for Loon Creek mines among whom were Joe Galation, merchant there It is not probable the trail will be opened for travel there to speak of, before early in May

The expressman from Rocky Bar and Yuba Districts says none of the mines are now being worked Operations on the Wide West have been suspended on account of the deepness of the snow The road between Boise City and Rocky Bar is bad. The snow is about five feet deep on Camas prairie, and about six feet at Rocky Bar, and between twelve and sixteen feet on Atlanta mountain.

WANTS TO GO OVER NIAGARA FALLS IN A BOAT.—The Buffalo Commercial, March 18th, says

The following elegant epistle addressed "To the Mair of the Sitey of Bufelow," has been placed in our hands and we hasten to lay it before the public not alone as a rare "curiosity of literature" but also on account of a promise it gives of another of those "grand entertainments" at the Falls All that is needed to insure the exhibition is the putting up of the insignificant sum mentioned and we hope the gentleman who made the offer will "ante" without delay

It is hardly necessary for us to remark that the letter is given verbatim et literatim

A Torpid System.

Sometimes without any assignable cause the physical strength and animal spirits give way and a strange torpor falls at [illegible] the body and the intellect There is little or no pain perhaps but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular system seem to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life and even of its grave responsibilities takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition

This state of partial collapse is often the premonitory symptoms of some serious malady It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter s Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial The great tonic wakes up the system from its torpor The secretions and the [illegible] receive a new [illegible] The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity [illegible] [illegible]

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The Union Republican party of Oregon in Convention makes this declaration of its principles and policy

1st Unfaltering devotion to the Union first, last and forever and unwavering fidelity to the Constitution and its amendments and to the laws of our National Legislature

2d We wholly approve the principles and policy of the administration of President Grant, as carrying into practical application the principles for which we have successfully striven And we particularly commend these points in his Inaugural Address, wherein he declares— "let it be understood that no repudiator of one farthing of our public debt will be trusted in public places and it will go far towards strengthening a credit which ought to be the best in the world and I would protect the law abiding citizen whether of native or foreign birth, wherever his rights are prejudiced or the flag of our country floats and I will have no policy to enforce against the will of the people"

3d We have confidence that the Administration will wisely and firmly protect the interests and sustain the dignity of the Nation in respect to other nations and especially with regard to our just claims against Great Britain

4th We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime,—and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the uttermost good faith to all creditors at home or abroad, not only according to the letter but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted And for this purpose we favor a strict economy in the Administration of the National Government and the application to such payment of all surplus revenue, from whatever sources derived and that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit

5th We make no distinction between citizens whether of foreign or native birth, and that we sympathise now and ever with men of all nationalities striving for self government

6th That we are opposed to any change in our naturalization laws which shall admit to citizenship any foreigners not now entitled thereto under said laws

7th We favor a judicious system of railroad and river improvements in Oregon in order to develop our resources and invite settlement of our unoccupied territory and for this purpose insist that Congress should make us liberal grants of aid

8th We are in favor of a tariff for revenue, with such discriminations in favor of our domestic manufactures as will not diminish its efficiency for the purposes of revenue

9th We favor universal amnesty to the people of those States lately in rebellion, which have been restored to full relations in the Union

10th We are in favor of fostering the cause of education and are opposed to any diversion of the common school funds of this State to any other purpose than the support of common schools

11th We recognize in the Union Republican party the measures and men who saved the Government from destruction, and that its continuance in power is the only sure safeguard to national peace and prosperity And with this platform we appeal to the voters of Oregon for their suffrages and support

Captured by the Indians

A short time ago it was announced that two little girls who had been captured by the Indians had arrived in Washington under the care of Colonel Leavenworth to whom they were indebted for their release. A letter from Montague Texas gives the circumstances attending their capture.

The parents of the girls whose correct names are Alice and Susan were named Thomas Jefferson and Martha Fitzpatrick. They lived on Clear Creek some eighteen miles southeast of Montague and were in moderate circumstances. On the 6th of January 1868 a neighbor of theirs A. A. Parkhill arrived at their farm with the intelligence that a band of Kiowa Indians were on a raid in the vicinity killing and scalping all who fell into their power and burning houses. Mr Fitzpatrick with his wife, the two girls and an infant boy two years of age, accompanied by Mr Parkhill, immediately started for the home of the latter, about half a mile distant, closely pursued by the Indians. They had not gone far when the savages came up with the fugitives and attacked them. The two men fought with the greatest desperation but were finally overpowered, killed and scalped and their bodies horribly mutilated. Mrs Fitzpatrick was scalped alive and stabbed twice in the back, the Indians leaving her for dead. On their departure she wrapped her head in a part of her dress and endeavored to reach Mr Parkhill's house. She walked a short distance and fell. When found she was dead. The tragedy occurred about five o clock in the evening, but the bodies of the three victims were not discovered and brought in until the next morning.

The babe was carried by the Indians about half a mile, when the wretches dashed out its brains and flung the corpse on the road. The girls, however, were borne off uninjured, being consigned to the care of a squaw. As soon as information reached the citizens of the presence of Indians they organized a band and started in pursuit, but the night being very cold and the sleet falling heavily their trail was repeatedly lost, and they succeeded in making good their escape. The dead bodies were buried in one grave, beside a number of others who had lost their lives at the hands of the same band of savages. Mr Fitzpatrick was, I think, a native of Indiana. He had been twice married, and by his first wife had two daughters, who resided at last accounts in Tennessee. His father was residing at Montague at the time of his murder but [illegible] to Indiana soon after and is doubtless there now. It is not likely that he is ignorant of the fate of his grandchildren, and it would be well for the authorities to ascertain his whereabouts and restore them to his keeping, as the legal and most appropriate guardian for the orphans.

Resources along the Route of the Pacific Railroad Feeder

[From the Chicago Republican March 24]

The report of G. M. Dodge, Chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, has just been published, and, with the accompanying reports of chiefs of parties, constitutes a complete history of that road, with all the statistics of grading, curvature, and, in fact, everything appertaining to the road or its equipments. The nature of the country on the line is also briefly referred to, and [illegible] information given of importance in its development. The main facts connected with the building of the road are well known to the public. The survey of the Oregon branch, however, brings to light some interesting facts concerning the region through which it is to pass. The survey was begun at a station of the Union Pacific Railroad, near Monument Point (latitude 41 degrees 35 minutes north, longitude 11[illegible] degrees 4 minutes west,) where the elevation is 4 214 feet. The line takes a general northwesterly course following Raft river through the mountains of that name to Snake river, and thence to Walla Walla on the Columbia river. The distance from the initial point to the Columbia is 568 miles. The bridging and tunneling are heavy, but the [illegible] the advantages of abundance of materials for construction. Although this line lies in the very heart of the mountain range, there are large areas of valuable agricultural and [illegible] lands. In a belt of twenty miles on each [illegible] of the line, the amount is estimated to be as follows

Number of acres along Raft and Snake rivers	700 000
Number of acres along Boise, Payette and the Snake River Plain	13,800 000
Number of acres along Burnt river, and [illegible]	60 000
Number [illegible] Powder river and [illegible]	240 000
Number [illegible] along Grand Ronde and [illegible]	240 000
[illegible] along Umatilla and branches	500 000
Number of acres of [illegible] timber on the Blue Mountains	1 000,000
[illegible]	15 740 000

The Blue Mountain range, and the grass plains, [illegible] to the Columbia, and thence to the Dalles, are rich in pastures, and now feed 30,000 head of Indian stock, which require no hay or grain during the winter. The region is rich in minerals, which will lie for the most part undeveloped until a way is opened to them by easy and cheap communication. The snows there are not sufficiently deep and lasting to materially retard business. From the Dalles to Boise City, it is said the stages have not missed a trip on account of snows from 1863 to 1869. This trade and commerce are greater than would be supposed. The freight tariff is high—$30 coin per ton from Portland to Umatilla City—yet at that point alone, from 15,000 to 20 000 tons per year are landed, while at Wallula and points above, some 5,000 or 6,000 more. This region has shipped, in the past year, over $9,000,000 in bullion and dust. It is estimated that with cheap labor and freights, $25,000,000 per year of the precious metals could be produced in Idaho and Oregon alone.

Our Baser Metal Mines—The mining of pure gold and silver in the Territories has so occupied the attention and labors of the miners that comparatively little has been done in searching for, or developing the baser metal mines. As pure gold and silver deposits become scarcer and and more difficult of mining and profit, the baser metal mines, yielding lead, copper, iron, and other metals in combination with gold and silver will be developed, and become a source of permanent wealth. Nevada abounds in these mines, many of which, within a year past, have been discovered. At Hamilton and Treasure City alone, [illegible] five or six thousand have already been recorded. The Inland Empire, speaking of these mines, says it is fair to presume that one-half of them existing in the district have not yet been discovered. A gentleman who has paid some attention to the subject states that one thousand smelting furnaces could be supplied with ore the coming summer. This may be an exaggeration, but it is evident that the most reliable sources of our mineral wealth have not yet been opened, and that with the larger capital which will in time be devoted to their development, and with improved furnaces and mining machinery, the mineral resources of our gold and silver bearing regions will be found to be practically inexhaustible.

Convention of Turners—It is announced that on the 8th of next month [April] there will assemble at Turners' Hall in this city a convention representing all the Turners Societies of the United States which will probably be in session for three or four days. The object of this convention is represented to be deliberation on matters of public moment. Prominent among these topics are, as it is stated, consideration of the propriety of retaining the Bible in the public schools, and that of amending the Constitution of the United States so as to formally recognize God. The ground to be assumed on the latter question will, it is asserted, be the opposite to that taken by the reformers, who met at the Academy of Music last week. The arrangements for the coming convention are being conducted on quite an extensive scale. Among those who have been invited to be present is Carl Schurz and it is probable that he may deliver the opening address—at least an effort will be made to induce him to do so. The Turners' society in this city is said to be in a very prosperous condition.—[illegible] Dispatch, March 19

Henri De Bourbon—The code duello has received a terrible illustration in Spain. However decidedly it may be on the wane in this country, as a means of redressing private quarrels, the Duke of Montpensier has shown that it survives in full force and vigor in the Old World. The meeting in which Henri de Bourbon fell, seems to have been a veritable family quarrel, for Montpensier himself is a Bourbon, too. Though these men may have been incited to fight by their rival efforts to secure the Spanish crown it is probable that other and more personal reasons were at the bottom of the matter. Henri de Bourbon was the most liberal man in whose veins ran the blood of the Bourbons. He fraternized with the Republicans of Spain. His wife is an American lady. His bloody death will create a great sensation in Europe and political consequences of grave importance in Spain.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill [illegible] in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

[illegible] solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, [illegible] with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by [illegible] and local measures viz Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots [illegible] about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society loss of memory [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove that he [illegible] to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the [illegible] responsibility resting upon them not delay [illegible]

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to the patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a [illegible] and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry. It will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, pretended patient's letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
